FSIX LA and Prudential have teamed up to bring you a spring networking evening at the Murano Restaurant & Lounge on Melrose in West Hollywood.

Financial Services Industry Exchange, Los Angeles (www.f-six.org)

Our mission is to be a leading global networking and professional services organization specifically for gay and lesbian financial services professionals. FSIX LA invites colleagues and friends to join us from diverse financial disciplines including private wealth management, asset management, consulting, investment banking, commercial banking, insurance, accounting, tax and real estate. The wide geographic dispersion of LGBT financial professionals in Southern California enables FSIX LA to play an important role in connecting this influential community.

Prudential provides sponsorship support to key organizations in order to establish relationships that will benefit Prudential, its diverse markets, and their communities. These diverse communities follow the changing demographics of the country and represent important emerging markets for most corporate interests. They include African Americans, Latinos, Asian Americans, gays and lesbians, and women.

Prudential's Business Diversity Outreach represents an integration of corporate and business-specific resources, both financial and human, to accomplish several specific goals: To facilitate opportunities for Prudential's businesses in targeted communities through sponsorships and related activities; to increase Prudential's presence in targeted communities; and to enhance opportunities for the recruitment, development, and retention of a racially, ethnically and gender-diverse pool of employees in the insurance and financial services industry.

Casual - Light fare will be served – Cash bar
Free for FSIX members and Prudential employees; $20 non-members

RSVP Required at www.f-six.org under the "Events" tab.
